

South East Asian Ball

MASSOCYORK

Background

An idea sparked on by the president of Massoc's mind; in collaboration with Filsoc, Singsoc, Indosoc, Thaisoc and Brusoc, we are honoured to present to you all that we will be hosting a special formal event called the South East Asian Ball. Food will be served buffet-style by reputable brands in York to all those in attendance. The dress code is formal or traditional wear for our fellow South East Asians. There will be special performances throughout the event to keep you entertained and even a participatory open karaoke for attendees. Ticket prices are just £19 so get yours today and join us at Central Hall on Campus West for a night of paying homage to our cultures and good food.

Objectives

- To provide opportunities for those in York's South East Asian community to socialise and network with one another
- To build relations between the South East Asian societies, increasing inter-society turnouts for future events
- To display a variety of SEA cultures through singing, dancing, and traditional wear at the event and spread the richness of our cultures to the wider community
- To hold a memorable event filled with good food and picturesque moments for South East Asians and everyone attending

Conclusion

We aim to make the best experience for every South East Asian in York by having an event that's hosted by the South East Asian societies as it has never been done before in the university. By doing this, we hope to inspire future South East Asians who will come to York and encourage recognising each other's heritages to feel one with their customs and respect one another's traditions.
