Room Assignments

FALL 2014

Rooms are assigned on August 1 and September 5, depending upon when you applied for admission, when you applied for housing, and when you paid your housing deposit. Students assigned in the first batch typically applied for admission by January 1, applied for housing by May 1, and paid the housing deposit by June 15. Room assignments are posted in MyHousing along with the names and contact information of roommate(s) and suitemates. Feel free to contact each other, get acquainted and plan your space!

How Rooms Are Assigned

The date you applied for admission becomes your housing priority date, and assignment priority is given to students who applied for admission the earliest. Every effort is made to place you in one of your housing preferences, but it is not uncommon to be placed somewhere you did not request. It all depends upon your priority date, your housing preferences, and the dates and preferences of your peers. If you feel you cannot be successful in your assigned location, you may contact your resident director after the second week of the quarter to discuss a room transfer.

Temporary Assignments

A few students with later priority dates will receive a temporary assignment, usually in a double room with a resident advisor. As vacancies occur over the first several weeks of the quarter, students in temporary assignments will settle into permanent locations. Students with temporary assignments will receive an email by September 5.

Housekeeping

Residents are responsible for the regular cleaning of their room, suite or apartment, including responsibly disposing of trash and recyclables. It is your responsibility to clean your own bathroom unless you live in a hall with community bathrooms such as Edens North, Mathes Hall, Nash Hall, Ridgeway Alpha, Delta, Kappa, Omega or Sigma. Environmentally-friendly cleaning products are strongly encouraged. Toilet paper is provided in every residence hall.

7. Please note that parking permits are required in Birnam Wood and visitor parking is not available.

Personalizing Your Space

Essential to the college experience is the process of creating your home away from home. Collaborate with your roommate(s) to rearrange the furniture, style the beds and share the space:

- For decorating tips and inspiration, visit our Facebook and Pinterest page through housing.wvu.edu.
- Avoid damage charges at the end of the year by using removable adhesive products designed for damage-free decorating and organizing.
- Find out if your roommates or suitemates are sensitive to fragrance, peanuts or other allergens before you invest in a supply of snacks, dryer sheets or air fresheners.
- When it comes to larger items that can be shared, decide which one of you will bring a mini-fridge, microwave, TV, etc.

Student Property Insurance

The University assumes no responsibility for loss or damage to your personal property from any cause. We strongly recommend you obtain insurance by verifying coverage under a parent's homeowner's policy or by purchasing renters insurance. Property insurance for college students is available through Fidelity Insurance at www.fidelityins.com.

Bicycles

The University recognizes bicycles as a preferred form of transportation. Racks designated for bicycle storage are provided throughout campus and within each residential community. Bicycles stored anywhere else are subject to impound. To see the type of bike storage available in your building, go to housing.wvu.edu/tour.

Vehicle Parking

If you plan to bring a car, truck, motorcycle or scooter, be sure to obtain a parking permit through University Parking Services. Cost is about $275 for the academic year and the fall application process begins in August. Most residential buildings have parking in proximity; however, it is not uncommon to be assigned to a distant lot. Priority is given to students with the most credits earned. For more information, visit the Parking Services website at www.ps.wvu.edu/parking.

Community Transit

Students taking six or more credits per quarter pay a mandatory Alternative Transportation Fee. This allows you to use your Western ID card as a bus pass for unlimited rides on the Whatcom Transit Authority (WTA) system. In order to use your card as a bus pass, you must activate the bus-pass function of your card at the Western Card office at the start of each year. Separate from the student bus pass, any WWU student with a Western ID Card is eligible to ride the Western student shuttle, a late night bus service for Western students only. See Western ID Card on page 9.

Purchases made with Viking Dollars are discounted 10 percent and food purchases are exempt from sales tax (another 8.7 percent). Viking Dollars make a great supplement to your meal plan and they never expire. Viking Dollars may be purchased at the Atrium POD in Arntzen Hall, in Edens Hall 109, or online at dining.wvu.edu.

Unused meals expire at the end of the quarter. Dining Dollars may be spent in any of the campus cafés and markets, or to buy additional meals in a dining commons. Dining Dollars carry over from one quarter to the next and expire on the last day of spring quarter.

Our Commitment to Students with Food Allergies

If you have food allergies, you are familiar with the time and effort it takes to manage your health and wellness. As you prepare to move in, be assured that Western is committed to providing you with the tools you need to maximize your college dining experience. Most students with severe allergies successfully navigate campus living with the following resources:

1. Our registered dietitian is available for consultation and can help you create a personalized plan for making healthy food choices in the dining commons.
2. Our dining management team is available for your questions, concerns and personal food requests.
3. Weekly menus for each dining commons are available at dining.wvu.edu.
4. Manufacturer-provided menu and nutrition information is available upon request or at dining.wvu.edu.
5. For food served in the dining commons, signage clearly identifies food allergens.
6. For food offered in campus cafés and markets, nutrition and allergen information is available upon request or at dining.wvu.edu.
7. With advance notice, you may personally review the ingredients in our dry or cold food storage.
8. For bulk foods or condiments that are prone to cross-contamination, you may request them in individually packaged servings.
9. Upon request, dining staff will gladly change their gloves or use fresh utensils if you are concerned about cross-contamination.

Technology

Your Universal Login

Every student has access to an array of computer services that includes MyWestern, Web4U, student email, computer labs and wireless networks. Access requires a one-time activation process to generate your universal username and password. Activate your MyWestern account at www.wvu.edu/webactivate.

Connecting to the Internet

WiFi is provided throughout the residential buildings and is included in the cost of your room. When you move in, you will complete an online registration process using your universal login to initiate network access. Your computer must have current antivirus software and be patched with the latest security updates for your operating system. Please note that wireless routers are prohibited and unnecessary.

Digital Cable TV Service

Cable television service is provided in every residential room and included in the cost of your room. You must provide your own TV with QAM tuner and coaxial cable.

Telephone Service

For an additional $60 per quarter, local landline telephone service is available in your room by request. Service includes voice mail, caller ID, call waiting, call forwarding, call transfer and conference calling. You must provide your own telephone. For more information, contact the telecommunications department at 360-650-3600.

Residential Computer Labs

Located in each community, residential computer labs provide 24-hour technology access for residents. Labs are equipped with Microsoft Office, laser printing and Internet.

Internship Opportunities

The ResTek internship program is an opportunity for residents to get paid training and work experience by assisting other residents with their Internet connection during the first week of fall quarter. Interns get early arrival privileges free of charge, along with meals and a t-shirt. Launch your year in a leadership role and make friends with fellow interns and ResTek staff. Apply for an internship at restek.wvu.edu.

Tech Support

Residential Technology Services (ResTek) provides technology education and support by phone, email and room visits on issues concerning Internet connection, cable television, game consoles and copyright law. For more information, check out the ResTek website and follow them on social media at restek.wvu.edu.

Official Business

The Housing Agreement

The term of the Housing Agreement is the entire academic year or remainder thereof if you move in midyear. Except in cases of graduation, school withdrawal, study abroad or internship, moving out of the housing system before spring quarter finals week will result in a contract breakage fee up to $400.

Policies and Procedures

As a member of the residential community, you are responsible for understanding and abiding by the residential policies and procedures, including the Housing Agreement, the Community Standards and Conduct Procedures. Before you move in, take the time to get familiar with the policies and procedures at housing.wvu.edu/apps/policies/.

Student Rights and Responsibilities

Acceptance of admission to Western carries with it an obligation to fulfill certain responsibilities as a member of the University community. All students are expected to act in a manner appropriate to an institution of higher education, to sustain campus-wide safety, and to adhere to the University's mission. Please note the standards of behavior under the Student Rights and Responsibilities Code are higher than those imposed by civil and criminal law and administered through the Dean of Students at www.wvu.edu/dos/office/conduct.

Cancellation Before Arrival

Housing cancellations must be submitted in person or by email to Housing@wvu.edu; please include your name, student ID number, and a statement canceling your housing reservation. Refund or forfeiture of the $200 housing deposit is determined by several factors and specified in the Housing Agreement.

Housing during Intersession

Residential buildings remain open during winter and spring breaks and students enrolled for the coming quarter are allowed to stay on campus for all or part of the break. There is no additional cost for break housing provided you fulfill the terms of the Housing Agreement. Meal service in the dining commons is suspended during winter and spring breaks, and campus cafés and markets remain open with limited hours.

Moving Out during the Year

If you need to move out for any reason, you are expected to follow the proper checkout procedure described in the Residential Policies and Procedures at housing.wvu.edu. See also the Housing Agreement for checkout deadlines, possible checkout penalties and contract breakage fees.

Year-End Closing

The academic housing term ends on the last day of spring quarter and all residents are expected to be completely moved out no later than 4 p.m. Friday, June 12, 2015. Detailed instructions for moving out are distributed to students in early May and posted online. If you have circumstances preventing you from leaving by the deadline, contact your resident director in advance for permission to stay until noon on Saturday.

Housing for Future Terms

- If you plan to live on campus while attending summer 2015, please note that registration for summer housing will be available online April 1 through May 15.
- As a campus resident for 2014-2015, you will have the option of renewing your on-campus housing for 2015-2016. Information about housing renewal will be posted online by February 1, 2015. Please note that space will be limited.

Resident Mail & Packages

Resident mail is distributed on weekdays during the term, except for holidays. To ensure your mail reaches you, it must be addressed like the examples below and include your official first and last name.

Shipping items before you arrive: If you are coming from out of the state or country, it may be practical to ship some of your belongings in advance. To ensure proper delivery, address the package to yourself at your campus address and use a shipping method with tracking. Do not send anything too soon: packages sent in advance should arrive no more than a week before you check in.

Student Employment

Over 165 students are employed by University Residences and over 500 students work for University Dining Services. Job openings in housing and dining are posted at housing.wvu.edu. If you plan to be employed while attending Western, be sure to bring the official document(s) required by Form I-9 at www.uscis.gov/files/form/i-9.pdf.

Western ID Card

Once you are registered for classes, you are eligible for an official Western ID card. Your card serves as official photo ID and gives you swipe-access to your meal plan, Viking Dollars, student bus pass, student shuttle, libraries, Rec Center, athletic events and more. To get your card you will need to show valid photo ID, such as driver's license, passport or state ID. Your initial card is free, but replacements cost $8 each. For more information, visit housing.wvu.edu/wcard.

Your Student Email Account

Every Western student has an email account within the MyWestern portal. Your student email account is the University's official mode of communication and you are personally accountable for all of the information sent to your student email address. University housing staff regularly send official, time-sensitive communication by email and you are advised to check your email on a daily basis. As a convenience, you may set up email forwarding to redirect your MyWestern email to your personal email account. If you ever experience technical issues with your student email, promptly contact ATUS at helpdesk@wvu.edu or 360-650-3333.

Paying Your Bill

1. You are legally responsible for meeting the University's payment policies and deadlines even if your college expenses are covered by a family member, financial aid or scholarships.
2. The cost of your housing and meal plan is billed to your student account before the start of each quarter, and your student account is accessible through MyWestern. Housing and meal plan rates are available at housing.wvu.edu.
3. The balance owing on your student account is due by the first day of classes and is payable online, in person or by mail. Any additional charges incurred later in the quarter (for actions like increasing your meal plan, upgrading your room assignment, or replacing your keys) are due by 4 p.m. on the third Friday of the month.
4. Quarterly funds for students with financial aid are applied to the student account for automatic payment of tuition, fees, housing and meal plan charges. If your financial aid is not enough to cover your entire balance due, you are personally responsible for paying the remainder on time.
5. Billing notification, reminders and late notices are sent to your official student email address. To include your parents in billing notification and the online payment system, you must set up an authorized user account in your student account.
6. A delinquent student account can result in late fees, meal plan suspension, registration hold, eviction and cancellation of classes. You can avoid account delinquency by reading your student email, monitoring your student account, communicating with family members, and diligently completing the FAFSA process if you have financial aid.
7. For complete information about managing your student account, using the online payment system, or paying miscellaneous charges out of your financial aid, visit the Student Business Office website at www.wvu.edu/sbo.
