Mail-In Recycling Program

In collaboration with Cotton's Blue Jeans Go Green™ denim recycling program, Vital Choice offers mail-in recycling for the padded liner in your box, along with any worn-out denim (90% cotton or greater) that you want to include. Please note, you must cover the cost of shipping, so use the shipping method that works best for you. Please remove the recyclable poly wrapper (4-LDPE) from the padding and reuse this shipping box to package your old denim and or padding. Visit the link below to print your shipping label. Attach it to your box and send it through USPS, UPS, or FedEx. Thank you!

Blue Jeans Go Green™ is a trademark of Cotton Incorporated.

Recycled Denim Protects Your Package and the Planet.

Made in the USA from post-consumer blue jeans, our recycled denim insulation offers extraordinary thermal protection, conserves natural resources, saves energy, and diverts hundreds of tons of textile waste from landfills each year. And because authentic denim is made of natural cotton fiber, denim and denim insulation can safely be reused, repurposed, or recycled through our mail-in recycling program.
