

Why Partner With Us?

We are uniquely able to acquire live tissue and fluid from any hospital across the U.S. and connect it to research projects or store it temporarily.

We have over 300 patient advocacy and research partners who are working to spread the word about rare cancers or working with our samples to make progress, respectively.

We are here to empower your organization's work and can be easily plugged into your existing frameworks. Our team of biologicistic specialists provides resources to make your workflow seamless.

About Us:

We understand patients and their needs because we were founded by a rare cancer patient, Mark Laabs, who noticed that there were gaps in the infrastructure needed to make progress.

We have helped patients donate their tissue directly to researchers from over 120 hospitals, resulting in 65+ research models for rare cancers that provide hope.

We're growing rapidly and always seeking new foundations to collaborate with! Scan the QR code to start the conversation.
