Global Views Launches 2023 Brand Magazine Featuring New Collections from Ashley Childers, Barbara Barry, Citizen Artist, Lemieux Et Cie, and Roger Thomas

DALLAS, TX, June 22, 2023 -- Global Views is proud to announce the launch of the new 2023 Brand Magazine celebrating the talented team of collaborative brand partners and their dedication to designing innovative and original products exclusively for Global Views. The magazine will feature new collections from Ashley Childers, Barbara Barry, Citizen Artist (formally known as FORM Design Studio), Lemieux Et Cie, and Roger Thomas. Each collection reflects the individual personalities and signature styles of the brand partners and will be introduced at the upcoming Dallas, Atlanta, and Las Vegas Markets. The 2023 Brand Magazine is now available to view on the Global Views website.

“We are proud of the design partnerships and products we’ve developed that blend seamlessly with our in-line products creating one-of-a-kind interior statements,” said David Gebhart, President of Global Views. He adds, “Global Views has always been known for its singular focus of providing our customers with exclusive and unique designs using the highest quality of materials available – which are then handcrafted by artisans around the globe. This direction will never change for the brand. It’s easily recognizable and customers just know, Of course! It’s Global Views!”

During the Las Vegas Market, Global Views will be hosting a new products release party for Citizen Artist on Monday, July 31st from 2:00 – 4:00 pm in their showroom #A153. The Citizen Artist designers Joshua Rose and Rafi Kalichstein will be on hand to discuss their new collection of home accessories, lighting, seating, and wall décor.

Global Views Inspires Creativity with New Vibrant Introductions and Live Painting Events with Sherwin-Williams at High Point Market

Events will showcase the artistic talents of Patti Carpenter, Jane Dagmi, and George Sellers

Dallas, TX – Global Views, a leading name in the home décor and furniture industry, is set to debut an impressive lineup of over 350 new offerings spanning furniture, lighting, wall décor, decorative accessories, seating, and textiles at the upcoming High Point Market. The prevailing theme highlights bold, pop-art-inspired designs infused with energetic cobalt blues, emerald greens, and fiery reds, elevating each product into a distinctive artistic statement.

Among the highlights of the launch are the exquisite Fused Glass collections, artfully handcrafted by Portuguese artisans. These skilled craftsmen meticulously layer translucent glass with vivid-colored sand, resulting in a stunning fusion of colors and textures. Additionally, the debut includes new ceramic accessories adorned with captivating cobalt blue and emerald green reactive glazes, each intricately embellished with hand-applied design details.

David Gebhart, President of Global Views, shared his excitement about the Spring/Summer 2024 launch, expressing, “We are celebrating the kaleidoscope of creativity by artisans worldwide and embracing the vibrant energy of the season. Our palette bursts with bright hues, igniting our customers' spirits and invigorating their style.”

To commemorate the celebration of creativity and innovation, Global Views and Sherwin-Williams are delighted to invite market attendees to three live painting events featuring the iconic Global Views ceramic Hands Stool as the canvas. For over a decade, the Hands Stool has captivated audiences with its humorous design and enduring appeal. Artists Patti Carpenter, Principal at Carpenter + Company and Global Trend Ambassador for Maison & Objet, Jane Dagmi, Managing Director of High Point x Design, and George Sellers, Creative Director at Global Views, will each lend their talents to produce unique one-of-a-kind stools.

The beautiful creations will be prominently displayed in the Global Views showroom throughout the market before being gifted to High Point x Design.

Global Views Introduces a French-Inspired Fall Collection at High Point Market
Showcasing Luxurious Materials and Culinary Delights from the Global Views Patisserie

Dallas, TX (October 17, 2024)—Global Views, a leading purveyor of distinctive furniture, lighting, wall décor, and decorative accessories, is excited to announce its latest introductions at Fall High Point Market. The new collection includes decorative accessories in a striking palette of saturated chartreuse and elegant French greys, enhanced with hand-applied gold leaf accents. Crafted from solid brass, hand-blown art glass, stoneware, and studio ceramics, these pieces add a sophisticated touch to any space.

A highlight of the French-inspired introductions is the Josephine furniture collection, where classic elegance meets modern design. The collection features eight striking pieces crafted from solid oak in either bleached or blackened finishes. A bed, daybed, and floor screen include exquisite traditional French double-wall caning, showcasing the collection's attention to detail.

“We draw inspiration from around the world, and this season, we are excited to present the beauty and elegance of 18th-century French design in our latest offerings,” said David Gebhart, President of Global Views. “The reign of Louis XVI inspired our Josephine collection, and my favorite piece is the new Josephine Daybed, which is perfect for any bedroom or living room. To enhance this experience, we’re hosting the Global Views Patisserie, featuring a selection of delicious French treats and drinks.”
