Thanks to expanded #Medicare coverage, more opportunities exist for vulnerable #OlderAdults to use #Telehealth services—and #AgingServices professionals can play a pivotal role in helping them do it. This is especially true for patient populations who face technological and other barriers to accessing such care.

In partnership with USAging, we've developed a policy spotlight highlighting best practices for addressing digital inequities and improving telehealth adoption and efficacy among older adults. Learn from other organizations working to advance these efforts, discover how #FCC rules can help, and see what's ahead.

NCOA's Policy Analyst Matthew Hubbard guides you through. 📌
