

CONNECT WITH WHERE YOUR FOOD COMES FROM

and take it home with you...

Step into the fields at sunset and experience food at its roots during Harvest with the Farmers, our monthly U-Pick experience at Fox Point Farms. Every second Thursday of the month, come alongside our farmers for a family-friendly evening learning how to harvest what's in season, discovering how your food is grown, and bringing freshly picked regenerative produce home with you.

There's something special about tasting food you've picked yourself—grown locally, harvested at its peak, and tended with regenerative practices from the soil up. Come walk the fields, harvest with us, and take a little piece of the farm home.

SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL FARMER

Our new Fox Point Farms tote bags have arrived and are available for purchase in Harvest Market just in time for September's harvest! Featuring the message "Support Your Local Farmer," these totes are a celebration of the local hands that grow, tend, and harvest our food—and an invitation to step into the fields and experience it for yourself.

Designed for trips through the farm, visits to Harvest Market, and everyday adventures beyond Fox Point, grab yours before Harvest with the Farmers and fill it with what is growing that evening.

Support local. Harvest local. Take the farm home with you.
